THE South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY February 11th, to MONDAY February 18th, 1751.

BOSTON, JANUARY 14.

Wednesday last the Great and General Court or Assembly of this Province met here, and on Thursday his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to make the following SPEECH to both Houses, viz.

Gentlemen of the Council and House of Representatives,

SINCE the last session, I have repeatedly prorogued the general assembly, that you might attend the public business at a season of the year, when I imagined your private affairs would suffer the least inconvenience by your absence from home: This causes your coming together to be somewhat later than usual: I hope therefore that with application and unanimity, you will give the greater dispatch to the affairs that may come before you.

I am glad that I can acquaint you, that no hostilities have been offer'd to us by the Indians upon our frontiers since the rising of the court. The tribes of Penobscot and Norridgewock deny their having any share in the late rupture, and express their desire to continue in peace with us. I shall endeavour to obtain satisfaction for the injuries done to us by the other tribes, who live near the borders of Canada, and to bring them again into a state of friendship, if it can be done consistent with the honour of the government.

I have wrote to the governor of Canada, complaining of the encouragement given by the French to those Indians to molest us, and demanding a release of our captives, who I am informed were carried to St. Francis, and expected Capt. Stevens would have gone forward with my letters; but the season was so far advanced, that he imagined the lake would be full of ice, before he could return, and therefore he deferred his journey, and I suppose is setting out from the fort at number four, about this time.

The French not only employ the Indians in alliance with them, to disturb our settlements, but are likewise endeavouring to draw off to their interest, the six nations the ancient allies of the English, and to engage them against us. I shall order to be laid before you a letter on this subject, which I have received from governor Clinton, by which you will perceive he proposes to meet those Indians at Albany the first week in June next, and desires the other governments to join with New York, in endeavouring to remove the ill impressions that have been made by the French.

It is the unhappiness of the English governments, that some of them look upon themselves to be no ways concerned with this affair, and will not join with the rest in their measures against the continual attempts of our rivals. On the other hand, the French, though so much inferior to the English, have a just sense of their interest, steadily pursue it, and are successful in their endeavours, continually drawing off the Indians from our friendship, and instilling into their minds prejudices against us. I acknowledge we are not so immediately concerned as the governments of New-York and Pennsylvania; but yet the defection of those nations, would in its consequences, extreamly affect not only this province, but the whole British interest in America: I therefore recommend this affair to your serious consideration.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

You will find that there are greater demands on the treasury, than your last supply will answer; and I doubt not you will think it needful to make further provision.

Gentlemen of the Council and House of Representatives,

I shall chearfully concur with you in any good and wholesome laws or orders that may be necessary for the further encouragement of industry and frugality, for increasing the produce and manufacture, and for regulating the trade of the province.

Council-Chamber, S. PHIPS.
January 10th, 1750-1.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, dated Nov. 21, 1750.

'Yesterday arrived here from Cork in Ireland, Capt. Waite, 'after a passage of eight weeks.—We have no late news from 'Chiconecto, or any inland place.—The buildings on the opposite 'side the harbour increase daily.—The weather here is very mo'derate, tho' we have had some pretty cold days. People are 'very sickly, especially the meaner sort, and the Germans, which 'is probably owing to change of climate, want of necessaries, and 'bad attendance.'

New-York, Dec. 10. Tuesday last was brought into our market, the four quarters of a calf of eight months old, which weighed 417 lb. neat; and the skin and tallow weighed 102 lb. neat. — It was raised by Benjamin Waters, at Newton on Long-Island.

A private letter from Halifax, of Nov. 2. informs us, that there are 1500 houses already built in that town, and above 300 more building; as also an English church, larger than the new one in this city; that they are hard at work compleatly to fortify an island that lies before the town, on which there is to be 200 pieces of cannon mounted; — That from advices there from home, the general opinion is, that war will soon break out again — A French Indian was that day taken up in a French dress, supposed to be a spy, and was committed in order to further examination.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11. Since our last arrived here Capt. Haselton from Holland, which makes the 14th vessel arrived here from Holland this year, in which have been brought over 4317 Germans.

We have also imported from England and Ireland 1000 passengers and servants.

New-York, Dec. 17. Saturday last arrived here Capt. Sawyer in 27 days from St. Kitts, who informs us, that just before he sailed from thence, the Shark snow of war arrived there with advice, that five English men of war were going directly to Martinico, to join two French men of war, to proceed with them to the neutral islands of Tobago, St. Lucia, &c. in order to cause them to be immediately evacuated by all sorts of people whatever, except the native Indians. Also, that a new French general was just arrived at Martinico from France.

Halifax, (in Nova-Scotia) Nov. 28. Capt. Pimore arrived here a day or two ago, from Newfoundland, who brought from thence upwards of forty passengers, as settlers for this place; but being by stress of weather oblig'd to put into Louisbourg, about 19 or 20 of his passengers went ashore, and swore allegiance, and upon that were protected by the governor. ——— The Monsieurs there are terribly vex'd at Rous's taking the brig, as is usual upon such affairs.

ST. JOHN'S, ANTIGUA, December 28.

On Tuesday Afternoon the Honourable Gilbert Fleming, Esq; our Lieutenant-General and Commander in Chief, arrived here from Tortola. He was saluted when he came into the Harbour by the Guns of James's Fort, and received upon his landing by a Detachment of the late General Philipps's Regiment.

A private Letter from Tortola, dated December 12, mentions, "That there had been a great Quantity of Dollars lately found by the Inhabitants of that Place, upon a little Island adjacent called Norman's Island, to the Amount, as it is said, of 150,000, one Half of which, it was believ'd, had fallen to the Share of the Negroes, the first Discoverers of the hidden Treasure: And that his Honour

Honour the Lieutenant General had prevailed on ſome of the People to deliver up two thirds of what they found, being about 20,000, which he carried up to Windward with him.'——

LONDON,

Oct. 30. According to intelligence which the Dutch news-writers pretend to receive from their London correſpondents, our government has lately diſpatched an expreſs to Paris, with freſh inſtructions for his majeſty's commiſſaries, relating to the affairs that are to be diſcuſſed in the conferences with the French commiſſaries; which inſtructions, they ſay, are conformable to what was ſtipulated in the 12th article of the treaty of Utrecht, as well with reſpect to the limits of Acadia or Nova Scotia, as concerning the fiſhery, which the French are not allowed to carry on nearer than thirty leagues from the Eaſtern coaſt of Nova Scotia, &c. Mention is alſo made in the ſaid inſtructions, of the ſovereignty over the iſlands of St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Dominico, which the Britiſh crown forms pretenſions to, grounded upon an antient title confirmed and ratified by the treaty of Breda.
